

The Ballad of the Tale of Savannah the Horse

By Sidsel and Mike

As inspired by Finn, the author of "The Tale of Savannah the Horse"

C – G / C – G

Oh Oh Oh Savannah
Oh Oh Oh Savannah

D – Em – Am – G

Savannah the horse Lived underground of course
Cuz she didn't like, those human types
Nor did Savannah, want to use a toilet
She'd wear out sledgehammers, jus' tryna' destroy it

Her mama would buy, hammer after hammer
But they could never break it, despite all the clamor
Savannah truly wished, to be rid of that machine
Once upon a time back in 2018

Oh Oh Oh Savannah,
She don't use a toilet, but swings a sledgehammer

Th'one day Savannah's, life changed forever
People found her secret house, and she was discovered
They took her 'bove ground, put her in a barn
But that made her so mad, trapped there on that farm

The feeding person was, Savannah's first victim
He walked on in, but then Savannah just kicked him
Sh'kept on horse kicking, for a couple more years
Till Savannah became, a horse to be feared

Oh Oh Oh Savannah,
She don't use a toilet, but swings a sledgehammer

But then she saw the people, from the WWF
Fighting water pollution, helping fish with lab tests
Told her mama the stuff, and her mama said "phey"
Met some humans we like, now that's somethin' new!

Oh Oh Oh Savannah,
She don't use a toilet, but swings a sledgehammer
Oh Oh Oh Savannah,
She don't use a toilet, but swings a sledgehammer
