

The Tale of Savannah the Horse by Finn age 6

Once Upon a Time in 2018 there was a horse. She lived in a secret underground house because she did not like people. Her mom spent most of her time buying sledgehammers because none of them were strong enough to break a toilet because they did not want a toilet because they are horses and Horses do not use toilets!!!

One day something terrible happened. People discovered her house! The people put her in a barn. she hated it! But the time the feeding person came she kicked him and since she is a horse she can kill people by kicking. 2 years later every person was dead except for WWF. They were cleaning out the water because there was too much pollution. The horse did Not know that. So her next plan was to kill them. But when she saw them cleaning out the water she realized that they were helping fish. So she decided she was going to show her mom. Her mom was startled. She told her the stuff. Her mom said "phew" (soothing accent). They liked WWF so they lived happily ever after.
